

Hello Park Supporters!

Thursday, March 19th is Washington State Parks' 107th Birthday and it's a Free Day so you don't need a Discover Pass to visit the parks.

All of the State parks are open and the weather should be great so why not get outside and take a hike at your local park!

Jen Gray, our new Park Interpretive Specialist, has suggestions for Apps to use to identify birds and plants. A great idea for kids who are out of school now. Flyer is attached.

Also...the Ranger Rick website and magazines are free through June

Learn about Geology in our parks...
Our website has a geology section with lots of information, photos and maps about the geology of our parks:
Friends of Whidbey State Parks
There are even suggestions for geology hikes.

Bring a picnic lunch. Take a walk on the beach & explore the shore...
Look for birds, bugs and other critters Fly a kite Relax and have fun!
